Introduction: NBER International Seminar on Macroeconomics 2020

This issue is a selection of papers presented at the 43rd annual meeting of ISOm, the International Seminar on Macroeconomics. ISOm, a project of the National Bureau of Economic Research, brings together American and European economists each June, normally in a European location. This year's meeting was held via ZOOM.us on June 18-19, 2020. The program was organized by Jeffrey Frankel and H el ene Rey. The papers have gone through the usual refereeing process of the Journal of International Economics with Linda L. Tesar serving as special editor of this issue.
